

KIM RENGA

Kim's unique style as a communications and education specialist has enabled her to effectively educate and motivate people to discover their original identity and purpose. She specializes in promoting personal, relational and cultural restoration assisting the general marketplace--arts and entertainment, health and wellness, higher education, online media, and the non-profit sector. Coming from a generational background of alcoholism and emotional illness, Kim's passion is also encouraging and supporting others in the healing process from lifestyles of abuse, addiction and compulsion. She works with Celebrate Recovery to help cultivate and strengthen intimate and safe environments for genuine restoration resulting in permanent change and transformation.

For Kim, Communications is the 'family business' with a rich history of contribution to the arts and culture ranging from venues and projects at 20th Century Fox, The Metropolitan Opera, Madison Square Garden, The Smithsonian and others. Several of her extended family members promote the continual development of Italian Popular Music, Italian Culture and Cinema, Indie Music, Pop-Folk Music, Contemporary Christian Music, Studio art, and Interior Design.

Kim was a Special Consultant to the Music Department at California State University, Fullerton, assisted the leadership of AMES Learning Systems as Program Development Director, has served as part of the editorial faculty for the San Diego Christian Writers Guild and was the principal interview caption writer for the Stellae Award winning podcast, Christian Movie Connect. In addition to her former affiliations with Broadcast Music, Inc. (BMI) and Christian Women in Media Association (CWIMA), Kim has received notable commendation for her work in the creative arts and education including The Rotary International Foundation Award, The Brenner Memorial Fine Arts Award, The Roger Joseph Memorial Award, and substantial candidate positions for The Recording Academy (National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences) Award for Music Education and The South Coast Higher Education Council Award.

Presently, Kim is the owner and principal consultant of PROVision Content Studios, a unique content creation and editorial solutions firm for businesses, entrepreneurs, and non-profit organizations.

Love, truth and passion mark the essence of Kim's work. In everything she does, Kim desires to see transformation in people's lives. She knows firsthand that true freedom is not only possible, but a reality.
